

SUPPORTING OUR COMMUNITY

For 30 years Anglo American's Drayton mine has been part of the Hunter community. In the last 10 years alone we have contributed almost $750,000 to community organisations and local charities.

This month Anglo American provided $5,000 to the mighty Denman Devils Rugby League Club.

The Denman Devils were recently named the NRL Grassroots Club of the Year. We are delighted to help a club which is such a community institution upgrade its facilities.

Anglo American's community support program has helped a diverse number of organisations, including $10,000 to Aberdeen Community Caring Inc. for a new public outdoor gym, 10 laptops for Newcastle's John Hunter Children's Hospital oncology ward and $2,000 towards the Muswellbrook Business Awards.

Our employees are part of the local community and take great pride in our community investment program, which is why helping community-based organisations and charities with sustainable projects is very important to us.

Since 2010 Anglo American and Drayton employees have donated more than $239,000 to the Westpac Rescue Helicopter Service. Our annual employee contribution and sponsorship towards the rescue service are exactly the kind of continued support Anglo American and our employees would provide the local community should our Drayton South project be approved.
